Correction Is Help To Capital Bowlers

Check Up Gives Charles Lemmon Two Points and Raises Palace Team Into Fifth Place in Five-Men Competition at Boston, Thereby Breaking Deadlock—Conditions Are Ideal.

By KIRK C. MILLER.

BOSTON, May 11.—The discovery of an error of two pins in the scoring of Charles Lemmon's third game in the five-men duckpin competition Monday, puts the Palace team in fifth place of that classification and unlocks the tie which was thought to have been created between the Palace team and Murray team, of Boston. The correction has been sustained by Secretary John J. Donovan, and will increase the amount of cash prize money to be awarded by the Palace boys by nearly a hundred dollars.

Rolling in a double-header in the eighth and ninth boxes, Lemmon had been credited with but a count of 19 instead of 21. His score in the seventh box was 67. The count of 21 on the double-header brought his figures up to 88 in the eighth. A strike and a count of 18 in the ninth brought the mark up to 106, and eight pins in the tenth sent the score soaring to 114. He had been credited with but 12 by the official scorer. The error was plain, and no argument other than the official sheet was necessary to prove the claim of Captain Lewis, who discovered the discrepancy.

The creditable demonstration presented by the Palace five-man team, Kraus and Lemmon in the doubles, and Armiger and Baum, of the Velvet Kind team in the doubles, should go far to vindicate the delegation of Washington pinners, who were hoodwinked a year ago in Boston. To this day Washington is no doubt filled with bowlers who have been unable to understand the weak showing made at Brockton, and in many instances unfair remarks regarding that set have been made.

Rolling under absolutely perfect conditions at Mechanics' Hall, the Capital team have acquitted themselves well and could have done likewise at Brockton, had the alleys been beyond suspicion.

Brockton would not enter this tournament because sand-papered alleys are not allowed. There is a well developed movement throughout New England to eliminate the sand-papered alleys entirely. There are not a few types in Boston, only the smaller outlying towns adhering to their use.

"Straight-edge" Joe Michaud, a veteran alley owner of Washington, has put himself on record as being thoroughly won over by the small ball, pin, and regulation A. C. B. alley.

"Why, with those little balls and pins, together with the leatherite pins and kick boards, twenty-five or

BREWER AND CARTER PICKED AS WINNERS

By BRYAN MORSE.

Brewer and Crawford Carter, St. Albans crack runners, are primed and ready for the junior championships to be held at Franklin Field Saturday, and both youngsters are calculated to come to the front in the 100 and 220, half and mile.

Brewer has run four heats in the 100 in 20-5 at M. A. C., and in the final he was clocked in 9-4-5. At Toms, Saturday, Brewer went two heats in even time. He is expected to win in the century and furlong, although Smith, of Mercersburg, has approached this time twice this spring.

Carter's work in the half and mile stamps him as one of the best distance runners in this section of the country. His work last Saturday, when he ran the mile and a half in 4:40-2-5 and 2:04-2 breaking marks made by Shepard and Gill, puts him right out at the front, and it will require some phenomenal running to beat him Saturday. If Brewer and Carter come through St. Albans should win the meet.

Business and Western are scheduled to play in the fifth game of the high school series at American League Park today. The teams are tied for the leadership both having played and won a single game. The game today will put one of the other in the lead with an undisputed start.

Washington's Teams' Impression Is Good

Many Friends Are Won as Result of Showing of Representatives of This City in Atlantic Coast Bowling Tourney—Team in Doubles and Three Individuals Yet to Roll.

By KIRK C. MILLER.

BOSTON, May 11.—With the exception of a team of doubles and three singles in tenpins, Washington's part in the A. C. B. A. tournament, which ends here Saturday night, is completed. These will be disposed of today. With due credit to the bowlers, it may be added that their work was well done and has received the commendation of the army of pinners which is congregated here. Washington has made an impression on the New England bowlers, a distinctive one, and because of the excellent manner in which the boys who thrive on the banks of the Potomac have conducted themselves through the initial tournament of this infant organization, the rollers of this section have promised the Capitalians their unwavering support when the bowling classic is held at Convention Hall a year hence.

Tenpins occupied the final night which the District delegation will spend in Boston. The Senators, a team made up of the five duckpin squads here, rolled in the five-men event, and amassed a count of 2,448 pins. The score is not high enough to be expected to land its rollers within the tenpin money, but it classifies the members of the team as being able to distinguish themselves in more than one branch of the popular winter pastime.

Harry Kraus was his old self with the big maples. His individual efforts, as usual, characterized the rolling of the boys with whom he affiliated himself as a big pin five. Games of 203, 198, and 193 put him to the fore as compared with his fellows. His rolling was perfect with the exception of one box, when, with 5 and 10 standing, he felled 5 only. Here are the tenpin marks:

Ed Schlesinger, and treasurer, Harry Walsh. A schedule committee was appointed to consist of John Mahoney, of St. Anthony's; E. Schlesinger, of St. Dominic's; Edward Gunning, of St. Martin's; and Thomas McIntyre, of Holy Name. The schedule will close after each team has played twenty-five games.

The teams were represented as follows: St. Dominic's, E. Schlesinger; St. Anthony's, John Mahoney; Holy Name, Thomas McIntyre; St. Aloysius', J. Landale; St. Stephen's, J. McMahon; St. Peter's, F. Keene; Holy Trinity, Julian Moore; Holy Comforter, M. Donohoe. A report on the schedule will be made next Tuesday evening at a meeting at St. Aloysius' parish hall. A meeting of the joint committee having in charge the plans for the outing of the juniors will be held at the home of Mr. Wissner this evening. More than 3,000 tickets have been distributed for the benefit of the fund for a permanent outing camp for the juniors.

BALTIMORE, May 12.—Allan Lard, Washington golfing crack, may have a chance to play Champion Francis Quimet in the finals of the Baltimore Country Club classic today if he dispenses of B. Warren Corkran, the Monumental City crack, in the semi-final round.

Corkran and Lard are pitted in the semi-final event, while Quimet and Worthington will fight out in the other half of the bracket.

Donald Woodward, the Washington Country Club golfer, is in the semi-final round of the classic, having won two matches yesterday. John H. Clapp is in the defeated eighth event from the first sixteen.

Vardon and Ray Decide To Sail Next Saturday

LONDON, May 11.—Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, the famous golfers, who had arranged to sail for an extended tour of the United States next Saturday, with George Duncan and C. H. Mayo, by the ill-fated Lusitania, have not canceled their trip, as erroneously reported, but have simply deferred sailing until a later date.

Duncan and Mayo say that they have arranged to play several exhibition foursome matches with Vardon and Ray during their tour. The former pair have played together for many years in foursomes with brilliant success, and have always attracted attention, on account of their directly opposite styles.

Baker Case Comes Up For Disposition Today

PHILADELPHIA, May 12.—Final disposition of the protest of E. M. Hackney, president of the Philadelphia Suburban League, against the playing of J. Franklin Baker with the Upland club will be made tonight at the Philadelphia Athletic Club, where a special meeting of the Interstate Association will be held.

E. M. Hackney stated he has in his possession certain letters and documents that will prove beyond doubt that Baker is a contract jumper, and that he will present these as evidence substantiating his protest before the board of directors.

Joseph P. Rogers, president, stated yesterday that he has received numerous letters and telephone calls from prominent Delaware county sporting men and backers of certain clubs in that league requesting him to sustain Hackney in the protest.

According to this, it is said by officials of the association, not only will Baker be barred, but the Delaware County League will remain in the association, each having two votes, and five leagues have pledged their support to Hackney.
